

Recent developments in comparative statics by Topkis and Milgrom and Shannon are stated. A corresponding generalized version of Le Chatelier's Principle from classical economics is formulated and then proved. Finally, constraint types and possible applications are both discussed briefly.